SEC Asked to Deny Concern's Plea to Exempt Two Issues From Holding Company Act.

STATUS OF OLD OBLIGATIONS CITED

Statement Asserts Proposed $13,000,000 in Securities Involved Are of 'Doubtful Soundness.'

The City of St. Louis today filed with the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission a statement opposing the Laclede Gas Light Co.'s recent application for exemption from the provisions of the Holding Company to two proposed security issues, totaling $13,000,000.

The city's statement, prepared by Edgar H. Wayman and John G. Burkhardt, City Counselor and Associate Counselor, argues that the proposed security issues are "of doubtful soundness," and that every safeguard provided by Federal law should be placed around them.
"We submit," the city's statement declares, "that where securities are of a temporary nature, and especially where there are grave doubts as to their soundness, as in the present case, there should be every reason and necessity for the Securities and Exchange Commission re quiring that complete information be filed. This appears to be far more essential here than where long-term securities, with a ready market value at reasonable rates of return, are involved.

'NOT FOUND' NAME HUNT IN OLD CITY DIRECTORIES

Election Through Those of 1932 and Later Years.

CHECK OF OLD VOTING LISTS ALSO MADE

If Names Are Found It Will Indicate They Once Were Voters; Many Probably Changed Residence.

Office clerks of the Election Board today searched city directories of 1932 and later years for names included among the 46,252 "not found" in the board's precinct recanvass of the registration of June 18. The recanvass, made July 30-31, was caused by the Post-Dispatch's exposure of whole-sale registration frauds. Gov. Park last week directed the Election Board to ascertain how many of the "not found" names were on the registration lists in the 1932 enrollment, which was conducted by the Election Board named by his Republican predeces sor, Gov. Caulfield. The board put a force of its clerks at work on the task of looking for the "not found" names on the 1932 lists. Yesterday some of the workers shifted the scene of their search to old city directories.

No report has been made on the equiry thus far. It is expected that a considerable number of the "not found" names will be found in the old voting or directory lists. This will indicate that they were, at a former time, actual voters in the precincts in question. But it will not explain the failure of precinct clerks named by the present Election Board, in eight canvasses since 1932, to strike off the names of those who have moved or, in inquiry, it became evident that the stered from vacant buildings and vacant lots, were only a part of the fraud, and probably the smaller part. The greater part consisted in leaving on the books the names of voters who should have been stricken off because of removal or death. These names, remaining on the books, could be voted by re-peaters as readily as could the downtown "ghost" names.

Since the present Election Board took office in February, 1933, there WITH THE REBEL FORCES AT have been registrations, followed by BURGOS, Spain, Aug. 18. - Rebel precinct canvasses, for the mayor- leaders, in a communique, alty election of April, 1933; the bond nounced today they held more than issue election of November, 1933; two-thirds of Spain.

Modern financing plans put the purchase of a home within the reach of many thrifty families. The home offers in the Real Estate Columns of the Post-Dispatch afford a varied selection.

Edward Pollack, a laborer, 5073 Kensington avenue, suffered a skull injury when struck by an automo-

Cast, but All 25 Circuit Court Candidates Polled Only 115,843.

Concluding an analysis of the ote for Democratic nominations for six Circuit Judgeships in the Aug. 4 primary, in which unusual the returns for at least 56 of the 669 precincts, the Post-Dispatch has found a striking disparity in the proportion of the judicial vote to the total vote, as compared with the Republican returns.

There were 143,120 Democratic ballots cast in the primary, taking the largest individual vote, received by State Auditor Forrest Smith, unopposed candidate for renomination. However, the vote on the 25 candidates for Circuit Judge was the equivalent of only 115,843. The difference was 27,277, or 19 per cent of the total vote.

This difference represented those voters who failed to express choices for the Circuit Court, those who invalidated their ballots on this office by voting for more than six candidates or otherwise improperly marking the ballots, and those whose selections for the bench were not recorded for any other reason.

The Republican Vote. In comparison, the maximum Republican vote was 77,913, cast for Conway Elder, unopposed for Supreme Judge, while the Republican vote for Circuit Judges was the equivalent of 68,866—a difference of only 9047, or 11.6 per cent of the Thus the volume of Democratic ballots not counted for Circuit Judges was almost twice as great as the corresponding volume of Republican ballots. Some of the defeated Democratic candidates, who wanted to contest the result but did not, because of the cost, were of the opinion scrutiny of the ballots in a contest might have explained disparity. They wondered whether, in some precincts, valid votes for them or other defeated aspirants might have been omitted from the count, with consequent direct effect on the results.

If that was the case, they argued, one or more of the three losing candidates with the highest votes might have been nominated. They recognize, of course, that there doubtless was a small segment of voters refraining from expressing ices for the Circuit Court and a fairly large group marking ballots improperly because of the complication of voting for just six out of 25 candidates.

More Interesting Figuring. interesting indication was found in the analysis of the 56 precincts whose returns were oddly uniform or rhythmical. The highest vote for a candidate failing to carry each of these precincts was subtracted from the lowest vote for a candidate who did carry the precinct. The result, combined for the 56 precincts, was a figure exceeding

If, in these precincts alone, a shift of only several thousand of these 11,000 votes had occurred in the returns, one or more of the los ing candidates might have been nominated. Furthermore, there were a number of other precincts not analyzed, because their unusual characteristics were not so striking, where a similar shift might have helped nominate one or more of the losing candidates.

Votes for the nominees were Joseph F. Dickmann, brother of Mayor Dickmann and now a Judge of Court of Criminal Correction 68,196; Assistant Circuit Attorney William B. Flynn, 63,874: Thomas J Rowe Jr., veteran legal defender of persons charged with crime, 63,423; Joseph J. Ward, member of the Board of Education, 58,441; Assistant Circuit Attorney David J Murphy, brother of a ward com mitteeman, 52,709; Alderman Michael J. Scott of the Twenty-first Ward, 50,090.

The nine leading defeated candidates were: Ernest F. Oakley, mem-ber of the State Athletic Commission and former Prosecuting Attorney, 44,417; Frank Lee, 34,702; Frank B. Coleman, 28.229: Richard T Brownrigg, 25,280; Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Herman Willer, 24. 080; Francis L. Kane, 22,624; Clyde H. Snider, 19,014; Chilton Atkinson 18,401; Morris A. Shenker, 17,351. Coleman, Brownrigg and Atkinson were indorsed by the Bar Associa-tion of St. Louis. There were 10 other candidates, whose votes ranged from 15,018 to 7010.

Eighth Ward Returns In its analysis of the primary returns, the Post-Dispatch took up oday the Eighth Ward, which extends from the river to California avenue in a narrow strip roughly south of Lafayette avenue. Chief Deputy Sheriff James J. Fitzsim-mons was re-elected Democratic Committeeman there without oppo-sition and also was nominated in the city for Sheriff, unopposed. For each place he had the advertised support of Mayor Dickmann. This ward gave pluralities to four of the nominees and to Lee and Oakley. Scott and Murphy were runners-up. In the Board of Aldermen last March, when the Mayor obtained control of that body, Scott, a supporter of the Mayor, replaced Alderman Bernard J. Fitzsimmons of the Eighth Ward, brother of James and a leader of the Mayor's aldermanic opposition, as vice president.

The ward's judicial vote: Judge Dickmann, 3104; Rowe, 2915; Flynn, 2883; Oakley, 2846; Ward, 2682; Lee, 1207; also, Scott, 1183; dates, 11 each; all others, 1 to Murphy, 970, and 112 to 310 each each, for an aggregate of 57. for the other 17 candidates. was remarkably uniform in the Murphy, 189; Rowe, 187; 12 candi-Brownrigg, 1231; Rowe, 927; also first precinct of this ward—231 votes dates, 3 to 13 each, for an aggre-675 for Scott and 58 to 420 each for each for Dickmann, Flynn, Murphy, gate of 98, while there was none the other candidates. "ECONOMICAL," "SAVES TIME," "PRESERVES FOOD VALUES," "COOL and CLEAN," - ST. LOUIS

Each has her favorite reason for wanting an all-electric kitchen-where the cooking as well as refrigeration is electrical. Busy women like its speed—its self-operation which saves their time and energy—the cleanliness of their kitchens and the bright, shining beauty of the range itself. They welcome the certainty of fine cooking results—no need of trusting to "cooking luck," because the electric range is perfectly controlled. And of course everybody relishes the appetizing, nutritious food that is produced by electric cookery.

With all these advantages of electric cookery, the economy of the electric range is more impressive than ever! Under your low rates, the cost of cooking electrically is extremely moderate-and money is saved by the reduction in food shrinkage, the preservation of health-giving food values, and the certainty of results.

No wonder more and more St. Louis women are turning to electric cooking every day! Sooner or later these advantages will be yours. Let your electric range dealer show you how amazingly easy it is to have an electric range in your home _ now!

A previous telegram from Stark replying to Barrett's letter, said only that Stark favored "absolutely honest elections." This caused Barrett to send a wire asking for a yes-or-no answer to his original question, which was whether Stark would join in an appeal to the President. The reply, received early this afternoon, is "no," unless the State authorities should refuse to heed a complaint.

Barrett will confer with John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, at Sedalia tomorrow, and will visit Kansas City before returning to St. Louis.

Larry Brunk Assails Campaign of Barrett. By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 18. Jesse W. Barrett of St. Louis. Republican nominee for Governor, was charged today by a party leader with attacking the Kansas City political machine on one hand while supported by one of "its leading henchmen" on the other.

Larry Brunk of Jefferson City, defeated for the Republican nomi nation for State Treasurer in the recent primary, called on Barrett to issue a public statement immediately promising to remove Charles A. (Andy) Orr from office as a Kansas City Election Commissioner, or "face the loss of 150,000 votes in Jackson County in November." Brunk then assailed Barrett's challenge to Maj. Lloyd C. Stark, the Democratic nominee for Governor, for honest elections and his fair election promise to William Hirth, Columbia farm leader, who declared in favor of Barrett after his defeat for the Democratic nomination for Governor. "I am intensely interested in Republican success," Brunk wrote to Barrett today, "and I approve your promise to Mr. Hirth, but it is wholly inadequate because it is couched in only general terms and does not mention names. Brunk said a Kansas City visit him Republican leaders there felt Orr was Barrett's "right-hand man." He predicted the Republican nominee would lose the county by 150, 000 votes as a result of it.

"This means you will have to carry the rural counties by over-whelming majorities," he declared. "In my opinion this can be done by making a public announcement now that Andy Orr and men of his type have no place . . . in your admin-for Flynn, 79 for Brownrigg, 78 each for Scott and Ward, 74 for Dickmann and 72 for Murphy, but only one to 11 each for the other candidates, except Atkinson, whom no one thought to vote for. However the total vote was just one short of being six times 90.

127 Votes for Losers in Precinct. In the big southwestern Twenty fourth Ward, one precinct stood out among the 48 precincts there. This was the twenty-second precinct, in the "Hill" district, bounded by Kingshighway and Manchester, Wilson and Macklind avenues. It gave overwhelming votes for the six can didates who also carried the ward as follows: Kane, 684; Murphy, 673; Dickmann, 670; Rowe, 669; Scott 662; Ward, 641. For all the other candidates there were only 127 votes, ranging from 1 to 19 each. Results for this ward totaled: Murphy, 5966; Rowe, 5192; Dick-mann, 4801; Kane, 4646; Ward, 4634; Scott, 3792; also Lee, 3156;

Flynn, 3131, and from 483 to 1664 each for the other candidates.

L. Jean Gauldoni, who recently was given a job as superintendent of excavations in the Street Division by the Mayor, was elected Democratic committeeman for the Twenty-fourth Ward, defeating the former member, Recorder of Deeds John P. English, who has been chairman of the committee. The ward was bitterly contested between the slates of the two factions, and the judicial returns for Judge Dickmann apparently reflected the divi-

Mrs. Meyers Testifies Daughter Was Home on Night Price Baby Was Taken to Hospital.

ADMIRER ANOTHER ALIBI WITNESS

Defendant in Own Behalf Denies Parts in Conspiracy Ascribed to Her by Mrs. Thomasson.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

KAHOKA, Mo., Aug. 18.-Following Helen Berroyer's testimony in her own behalf yesterday afternoon, when she denied the parts in the Muench baby plot ascribed to her by State witnesses, her mother was called to the stand as the first witness today.

Her mother is Mrs. Mayme Hawkey Meyers, a semi-invalid, who tells fortunes and who has known Mrs. Muench for many years.

Her testimony, designed to impeach Mrs. Thomasson, was that Mrs. Thomasson came to her home last Nov. 15 and said she had taken both the Price and the Ware ba-bies, knew then where the Ware baby was and could effect its re-On another occasion, she testified, Mrs. Thomasson said she had taken the two babies to "shake down" a man in New York.

Mrs. Thomasson had testified for the State that the conversations, with Mrs. Meyers, Mrs. Berroyer and Mrs. Muench concerned a plan to get still a third baby which Mrs. Muench might put forth as the "real" baby of Anna Ware. The St. Louis Court of Appeals had taken the baby from Mrs. Muench and restored it to its mother, Miss

Mrs. Meyers said her daughter was at home on the evening of July 1935, at the time when, according to testimony by disinterested witnesses, Mrs. Berroyer and Jones took the Price baby to Jewish Hospital. Her daughter, she said, was in the Muench home on the night of Aug. 17-18, 1935. It was then, Mrs. Muench says, a baby was born to her.

Under brief cross-examination by Attorney Associate Prosecuting Attorney Mathews, Mrs. Mevers acknowledged she had caused a telephone call to be made from her home on the afternoon of Aug. 18, in which Dr. Pitzman was informed that "a baby was born to Mrs. Muench."

Another Alibi Witness. Another alibi witness for Mrs Berroyer was her close friend and admirer, Harold Meyers, who testified, as he did here last April at the first trial and before that in the St. Louis Court of Appeals, that he was with Mrs. Berroyer in her home at the time the Price baby was taken to Jewish Hospital and that later that night he took her for an automobile ride and to an outdoor amusement place. He is not related to Mrs. Mevers

Another defense witness was Louis Wolf, formerly of Kansas City, who was among the 13 attornevs who defended Mrs. Muench at the Kelley kidnaping trial at Mexico. Mo. His testimony apparently was intended to support the conten-tion that Mrs. Muench actually gave birth to a baby, for he testified that in the early part of August, 1935, at the Muench home, and at Mrs. Muench's suggestion, he placed his hand on her abdomen and "felt life". In his eagerness to testify that he was convinced of Mrs. Muench's approaching maternity, he frequently went beyond the ques-tions asked him and was admonished by Judge Higbee. His wife followed him on the stand and gave similar testimony. Wolf said he is now practicing law in Joplin.

Preceding Mrs. Berroyer as defense witnesses were Carl M. Du-binsky, St. Louis lawyer, and Pross T. Cross, Lathrop (Mo.) attorney, who was one of Mrs. Muench's large array of counsel in her trial at Mexico, Mo., in the Kelley kidnaping case. These were two of the five lawyers whom Mrs. Thomasson named in her testimony as having had knowledge of or part in a scheme to get another baby which was to have been represented as the real child of Anna Ware. This ald have made it appear that the infant which the St. Louis Court of Appeals, in a habeas corpus pro-ceeding, took from the Muenches and gave to Anna Ware was not, in fact, Miss Ware's baby.

Mrs. Berroyer's Testimony.

In her direct testimony, Mrs. Berroyer carefully avoided the incredible story she has told twice before, once in the St. Louis Course, and the story she has told twice before, once in the St. Louis Course, and the St. once in the St. Louis Court of Appeals and again in the first conspiracy trial here last April, to the effect that while she was in an-other part of the Muench home at 4736 Westernia 4736 Westminster place, St. Louis, a child was born to Mrs. Muench, in her bedroom in the early morning hours of last Aug. 18, just a year ago. In her earlier recitals, Mrs. Berroyer had Dr. Muench arriving er the baby's birth, accompanied by another man she "understood" was at the home just a few minutes aft-a doctor, but whose name she never learned for certain. In cross-examination, however

Associate-Prosecuting Attorney Frank E. Matthews of St. Louis had Mrs. Berroyer again cautiously picking her way through all the details of this strange story. Defense counsel, having failed to ask Mrs. Berroyer anything about this alleged birth, made strenuous objection to this line of cross-examination, but was overruled. answer to a question by her attorney, Mrs. Berroyer had said she was in the Muench home the night of Aug. 17-18, and the cross-examiner's questions were directed to what took place while she was

As Mathews doggedly insisted on details, he had Mrs. Berroyer de-scribing herself as standing in the hall at the head of the stairs while Mrs. Muench was going through the agonies of childbirth, waiting to be called in by Dr. Muench and the other "doctor" who had come at an opportune moment, and finally leaving the house without having been into the room where the baby was.

Mrs. Berroyer is a mother and so testified when she told of her young son having undergone an operation at the Jewish Hospital a few years ago.

Denials by Witness.

In her direct testimony Mrs. Berroyer denied that she took Anna Ware's baby from the home of Mrs. Rebecca Winner, where it was born early Aug. 17, 1935, to the Muench home. The child that was in the Muench home Aug. 18 and thereafter, and which Dr. Muench reported in a birth certificate as having been borne by his wife, was the one the Court of Appeals awarded to Anna Ware, and which Miss Ware has testified she now

The witness also denied that she took the Price baby, predecessor of the Ware baby in the Muench hoax, from the Muench home to the Jewish Hospital, where it died. She has been identified by a Jewish Hospital nurse and an interne as the woman who, accompanied by Wilfred Jones, took the baby to the hospital and by the nurse as having signed the name "Helen Meyers" on a record of the infant's clothing.
Mrs. Berroyer's testimony in other respects was about the same as she has given in the two preceding court hearings. She is under in-dictment in St. Louis for perjury in connection with the testimony she gave in the Court of Appeals

Cross Warned by Judge.

Attorney Cross was a turbulent witness, insisting on making vol-untary statements intended to "vindicate" himself. He waxed oratori-cal as he declared he "had a personal interest in this matter and a reputation to protect,' refusing to stop talking when Judge Walter A. Higbee had sustained the State's objections to his voluntary statements. He was intent on telling the jury that he never again wanted to have anything to do with "that woman," meaning Mrs. Thomasson. Cross said he had met Mrs. Thomasson in the Muench home late in November of last year, but denied her statement that he had agreed to give $300 to aid she would come to his hotel room at 3 a. m. to get the money. After admonishing the witness several times, Judge Higbee point-edly informed him he was headed toward an inevitable result, plainly meaning a possible fine for contempt, and then Cross calmed

On cross-examination the witness testified to having seen Dr. Marsh Pitzman, wealthy St. Louis physician, in the Muench home while the baby was there. He said one time the physician "pranced up and down with the baby in his arms and asserted it looked like him." The State contends a motive of the defendants in procuring a baby for the Muenches was to make Dr. Pitzman believe he was its father and thereby get money from him. Dr. Pitzman testified that he had been intimate with Mrs. Muench and had been accused by her of being the father of the child she represented as hers, and that over a period of several months he gave her at least $14.500.

Attorney Dubinsky testified that he had seen Mrs. Thomasson twice, both times in his office. In November she came without an appoint-ment, he said, and sought to interest him in a proposal to bring back a baby she asserted was the "real" Ware baby. He said she sought money for expenses in going after the baby, which she represented to him was in Chicago. Although she testified he had advanced $125 for this purpose, he declared he gave her nothing—"not even a nickel."

BEATEN AND ROBBED IN HOME Mrs. Michael Burmac, Richmond

Heights, Gagged by Two Men. Mrs. Michael Burmac, of 7437 Wise avenue, Richmond Heights, was bound, gagged and beaten yesterday by two young men who forced their way in when she was alone in the house and stole $25 and a pistol. When she refused to give them money they beat her with their Then they tied her up with a sheet and put adhesive tape over mouth. Her husband found her lying in the kitchen when he returned about 12:45 p. m.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. OE LOUIS, Detroit's Negro heavyweight bomber, will en-joy a two and one-half pound edge in weight over Jack Sharkey, former world's champion, n their 10-round bout at the Yankee Stadium tonight. Louis scaled 199% pounds at the weighing-in today; Sharkey, 1971/4.

Sharkey arrived a few minutes before Louis, accompanied by his manager, Johnny Buckley, and his trainer, Tony Palozolla. While Sharkey was being examined by Drs. William A. Walker and Charles Pless, he turned around and spoke to Louis. "How are you, Joe?" Sharkey inquired. "Hello," Louis replied, and let it go at that.

SARATOGA SPRINGS N. Y. Aug. 18.-Mrs. Ethel V. Mars Chicago, who is not only a sportshas spent considerably more than half as much money on yearling thoroughbreds as her horses have won for her in three years' racing. In nine nights of the auction that closed here last night she spent $131,500 for 16 head.

Last year she bought 29 head for $108,000. Racing experts estimate her choices have paid her close to $200,000 in purses.

Some dispute arose about a trivial cup award. Mrs. Mars, who has a mind of her own, shipped the horses back to her Pulaski (Tenn.) farm and proceeded to sell them. Laughed at Big Offers.

In 1934, Mrs. Mars came to Saratoga and bought a dozen thoroughbred yearlings. Among them were Sangreal, The Fighter and Forever Yours. They were the beginning of her remarkable good fortune in prospecting on future racing stock. Mrs. Mars thinks as much of a fine horse which cost her $800 as of one which cost her $1800. Her good judgment was shown in the fact that nine of the 29 horses purchased in 1935 won their first starts.

She laughed off offers of $50,000 for Murph last winter at Santa Anita, Cal., and $100,000 for Case Ace a few days ago in Saratoga. She actually laughed.

The estimate of $200,000 won omes with less than three years' racing behind Mrs. Mars. Most of her present string may be expect-ed to continue in the money for anther five years. Won the Lassie Stakes.

This was the reason, it was reported during the sales, that her rainer, Bob McGarvey, bid $14,300 to buy a grey colt at auction. One of a horse-owner's greatest thrills is denied to Mrs. Mars. She is easily susceptible to colds and, consequently, cannot go out into old dampness of dawn to fair comparison, for the Greeks were very poor track builders and the one at the Athens stadium in 1896 was wretched.

At the next two Olympics, 1900 and 1904, the winner's time for the hundred meters was 11 seconds flat. Considering the fact that women have been active in track and field sports for only two or three decades and that even today no considerable number of them go in for athletics, the progress they have made is remarkable. Today Helen Stephens is only

THE matter was put up to Miss Dolores Boeckmann, coach of the women's Olympic team. "Will women ever approach men in athletic ability? Will we have a Helen Stephens 50 years from now who can run on equal terms with men?

The coach-trainer-chaperone of the women's squad regarded us pityingly as if wondering why the keeper didn't come and take us back where we belonged. But she answered:

"Hardly. We're not there physically. Maybe in a long time we'll change physiologically. As nearly as one can see man will never be overtaken by woman in athletic events and there's no use guessing about it. "Here and there exceptional types stand out among the girls. But they have not the strength or endurance to compete with man. In my opinion, they never will have.

As to the Swimmers?

Women swimmers probably have gone further toward man's objectives than any other athletic group. The "mermaids," as they were called then, were the first group of girl athletes recognized by the Amateur Ainletic Union. It hasn't been more than 25 or 30 years since even their activities were taboo.

Back in the days when girls wore long skirts, petticoats, sets and shirtwaists with high collars, there was bitter objection urged against permitting women to compete in swimming events.

The scanty costume necessary in competition offended the proprieties of the day. Horrified expressions followed when mothers were informed by daughters that they were taking up swimming. It was considered quite low-life to aspire to aquatic fame.

It was only after long pounding that the Amateur Athletic Union finally decided to recognize swimming for women and to permit regularly conducted competitions and to keep records.

the short time that has elapsed since then, the progress of women swimmers has considerable and is still continuing. Girls are natural swimmers, more so than men. Their specific gravity is less and their buoyancy greater, we have been told. Their advance in this field is not enough to worry the male of the species, but if there is to be competition on anything like equal terms between men and women athletes, it will probably be in the swimming pool.

In diving the women already are quite up to men's standards. Only their endurance is wanting to equalize their efforts in other

By the Associates Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. - The wolves, both bleacher and front of fice variety, are howling again for big league baseball scalps. As the 1936 season nears conclusion with a runaway in the American and a spirited three-team race in the National League, scores of well known players and at least three managers are sitting on the hot spot in hot weather, wondering where they will be next season.

Of the managers on the danger line, Jimmy Wilson of the Phillies, who bragged a little too much about his pitching staff, seems almost sure to be removed. Casey Stengel, good old Casey of the upside-down Flat-bush crew of Brooklyn, also is on the spot, as is Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates. The other master minds look well placed, but you never can tell.

Should Wilson get the bounce from the Phillies, it will be a sad note for hard-working baseball writers who dig and slave to get managers to talk. He shoots straight from the shoulder and tells you what he thinks.

Wilson's Hurlers Collapsed. Last March at Winterhaven, Fla. Wilson frankly told baseball writers that, while he didn't expect much hitting, the Phillies should have the best pitching staff since the 1915 pennant winner. He said he had a "big seven" in Curt Davis. Joe Bowman, Hal Kelleher, Bucky (El Goofy) Gomez. Walters, Euel Moore, Sylvester On the other hand Johnson and Orville Jorgens. He told the same thing to Club President Gerald P. Nugent. Yet the staff staggered and finally collapsed when he sent Davis to the Cubs in the Klein deal. He had to get more hitting, so he got Klein back with some needed money. As a result.

Bisons Increase Lead by Beating

The pressure that bears down on tries close Oct. 10. the pace-setters evidently doesn't mean a thing to the Buffalo Bisons, International League leaders.

Out to make their hold on first place as tight as possible, the herd not only shook off the strain of the beginning of a "crucial" series but the well-known jinx that goes with presentations and other special celebrations for the players when they turned back Rochester, 7 to 6, after losing an early lead, and increased their lead over Rochester to four games. OLD SOL AMONG THOSE PRESENT AS FOOTBALL SCHOOL OPENS

To play football well, you have to like it. On this basis, the students at Coach Jimmy Conzelman's school at Washington University, all should be stars in the future. For, these 20 boys from schools in Missouri and Illinois must like the game when they pay for the privilege of practice and instruction with the temperature flirting with

In Third Year.

Conzelman's school, now in its third year, opened yesterday with Conzelman and his assistant, Gale Bullman holding chairs of applied blocking and tackling. Another leading member of the faculty was Harley Selvidge of Paseo High School, Kansas City, who brought along with him seven youngsters who dream of the days when they will be carrying the ball down hard-fought field with the band playing "On Wisconsin" or words and music to that effect depending on the site of the college they at-

Also out for some preliminary work were several soon-to-be freshmen at Washington. It was noticed that most of them were big and fast and, if those who worked out yesterday were samples of what Conzelman will have on his 1936 first-year squad, Jim won't have much worrying to do. Anyway, "Pollyanna" Gale Bullman will take care of that. Gale's an expert and, probably with Frankie Frisch, could easily win the doubles worry championship of this or any other

There are two sessions of the school each day. Fundamentals are included in the course of instruction though most of the students need only polishing in them They really are well-advanced. For most of them, too, the course is a sort of conditioning and brush-up period for the first games of their schools to be played within month.

Lectures to Follow. The out-of-town boys at the school are housed in the various fraternity buildings on the campus and are under supervision at all hours. The school will continue through Saturday and there are to be lectures by Coach Muellerleile of St. Louis University and Coach Don Faurot of the University of Missouri with some of Conzelman's Washington varsity players helping out in demonstration work.

PONCA CITY SCORES 25 RUNS IN 4 ROUNDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 18 .-The Western Association, accustomed to decisive scores, today had in its books a game in which 25 runs were tallied in four innings. The adding-machine tally was collected last night by the Ponca City Angels, who turned in 21 hits to submerge Bartlesville, 25 to 7. The Angels started the first frame with five runs, amassed 12 in the secand added six in the third and for good measure put together two more in the fourth. Gipson and Richardson of the Angels get homers in the scoring spree.

Turning back a ninth-inning rally, the Joplin Miners edged out the Muskogee Seals, 8 to 7, to hold their one-game margin in first place on runs in the ninth off Lindell, including a circuit blow by Gray with

HEAD OF N. CAROLINA FAMILY CASTS VOTE FOR ALL MEMBERS

Practice for Last 15 Years Revealed in Inquiry by State Board of Elections.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 18.-The State Board of Elections, investigating charges of irregularities in the July 4 primary, reported today it found no evidence of fraud, but found these occurrences:

A "joke" by which two Surry County precinct officials, bothered by the constant attention of a poll watcher, hid 19 ballots while the votes were being counted.

A practice by Clay County election officials, for the last 15 years, of permitting the head of a family to cast the vote for all member of his immediate family.

Ambruster Mortuary, owing to the massive stone walls, the inner steel and concrete construction and the floors of Terrazzo, all of which caused the interior temperature to change slowly and the air to remain immobile.

There were no complaints. Nevertheless it was felt that if improvement could be made, it should be done, and so Kelvinator was invited to determine in the premises.

The findings led to the installation and it is a pleasure to record that the engineers solved every problem in adequately distributing the fresh, filtered, dry, and cooled air which has greatly enhanced our service.

In the Kelvinator System the temperature and humidity are so effectually controlled that the degree of comfort is always satisfactory. The exact selection in operation provides complete all year around control, whether the street temperature be torrid or frigid.

"A LITTLE BRIEF AUTHORITY."

Since the revival of the Olympic Games, back in the '90s, no other athlete has given an exhibition comparable to that of the American Negro, Jesse Owens, at Berlin. What may have happened in the dewy morning of long ago we are, of course, unable to say, but we're thoroughly satisfied that the Ohio breeze would have left those Athenian sprinters wondering what it was that had swept past them. Mercury, if entered, would have ordered a brand new

For refusing to appear in an exhibition. Owens has now been suspended by a little brief authority strutting high, wide and dumb. The decree that disqualified a world champion swimmer has been expanded to dim the luster of the Olympic star.

It will have no such effect. The officious inept tude that has twice revealed itself may provoke resentment which will presently switch off into derisive laughter. It is in order, we think, to give Mr. Brunchap that bombed the Ephesian dome.

THERE is some interest in trying to record the characteristics of the average American city in 1930. The traits presented will all be those statistically measurable. They may not be as interesting as those a tourist might observe, but they will probably be more accurately described.

A group of cities between 25,000 and 100,000 in population were chosen from which to compute the characteristics of the average city. The working populations of these transportation to the extent of about 10 per cent, in trade to about 16 per cent, while 38 per cent were in manufacturing, which per cents are the averages for the total urban areas. Data on 33 such cities distributed proportionately in all parts of the United States except the South were recorded, and the averages of these data were considered to be the characteristics of the aver-

The largest class of workers consists of those in manufacturing. A little over onethird (37 per cent) of the population at work are making things. Between one-fifth and one-sixth (17 per cent) are buying and selling and in that way making the money with which to buy the things they need. About one-tenth are engaged in moving objects and persons from one place to another. Slightly more than one in 10 (10.7 per cent) are following an occupation little developed in former times, namely, writing, copying, figuring, filing, etc. The in-habitants of Averagetown require one in eight or nine persons (11.6 per cent) of the working population to render them personal services, such as preparing and serving ood, laundering, cleaning, cutting hair, etc There is a higher type of service requiring much more training, as in law, teaching, medicine, dentistry and other professions About one in 11 (8.7 per cent) is required for such high grade services. Finally, one in 50 is normally engaged in some public ser vice, such as protecting property from fire and theft, inspecting, and in doing various services for the city.

The average city requires about three (2.7) police for every 1000 of the ordinarily employed population. A slightly larger number (3.7) of officials and inspectors and guards are needed. To minister to our physical ills four (3.9) physicians are available for every 1000 of the working population. The need for a lawyer seems to be slightly greater (4.2) and that of a preacher slightly less (3.1). All these services appear to be necessities. On the other hand, music, which may not be considered so much a necessity, calls for more teachers and performers (4.8) than there are doctors, preachers or lawyers. About six times as many teachers (23.8) as there are in any one of these other professions are wanted by the inhabitants. In the average city two out of three per-sons are of native stock, that is, born of native born parents. This proportion is about the same in the Northern and Southern city. But in the Southern city one person out of three that one meets is likely to be a Negro; while in the Northern city he will be either foreign-born or the son or daughter of an immigrant. Of those who are not of native

stock, one out of three will be foreign born

Every one of these trucks has its driver.

Trucks use gasoline (ours used more than $30,000 worth last year), and oil and tiresand occasionally have to be repaired. They have to be housed and serviced every night, and completely gone over every thousand miles. They carry licenses of several kinds; pay taxes and wear out. When a dairy truck breaks down, skilled emergency men, backed by a fast-moving organization, must get it or a substitute truck rolling again, right now.

For daily service of milk to the home is-and has to be-clocklike in regularity. Such delivery is actually the most important delivery there is. Every day-rain or shine-365 days in the year-a service rivaled only by the mailman-surer than almost anything else you know-the milkman makes his morning rounds. St. Louis Dairy prides itself on its daily service. Horses and trucks, deliverymen and upkeep-these are indispensable factors in this serious business of distributing the Milk supply of a metropolis. Unfailing daily service you must have-and you look to the Dairy to supply it. Whatever it costs, within reason, is justified by its necessity. Such costs are part of the Primary Receipts Shrink to Less Than Half Those of Week Ago - Scorching Temperatures in Iowa Reported.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.-With pri mary receipts of corn shrunk to less than half what they were a week ago, corn prices shot skyward anew today the extreme limit, cents. Scorching temperatures in Iowa. the banner corn State, promised to reduce still further the meager supplies of corn available. At Cedar Rapids the mercury was above 100 degrees, and at Des Moines the official prediction was for 115 today. Corn closed strong, 1%@4% cents above yesterday's finish, Sept. Chi. 451/2 441/2 451/5-1/4 441/2-1/5

2 to 7 cents gain.

Two cents a bushel corn market break took place early today after quotations had soared to $1.13 for September contracts, almost equaling the price of September wheat.

Rains in Iowa, Illinois and elsewhere, likely to aid crop conditions, led to an outpurst of profit-taking sales in corn, and prices tumbled. December corn, directly representing the new crop, fell in a few minutes from 99 % to 97 %, and September dropped from $1.13 to $1.11 %, Raillies, however, ensued, lifting the corn market, again at times to above yesterday's finish.

SLOT MACHINES VANISH IN ST. CHARLES AGAIN

Carted Away Quickly After Sheriff Gives Warning He Will Make Raids.

The 200 to 300 slot machines and the punch boards which have been in operation in St. Charles and St. Charles County since public discus-sion of the murder of Gambler Charles Maginness last May died down, were carted away or hidden yesterday and last night after Sher-iff Charles Phelps had given warning that he would raid them.

Following the murder of Maginness, an ex-convict partner in a gambling house which was to have opened in St. Charles, the slot machines disappeared overnight, but without any official pressure from city and county authorities. How-ever, about June 15, their whir and clang could be heard again in bars, restaurants and filling stations.

Sheriff Phelps yesterday an-nounced that "a lot of respectable citizens have complained and gambling machines must go." He gave a "last warning" that he would make raids to clean up the county" if the machines weren't re-law-enforcing officer, once it was announced, was amazingly swift. At 4 p. m., a short time after the threat was made, trucks began stopping at the bars, restaurants and filling stations and taking away the machines, most of them heading toward St. Louis. Truckmen were ousy until 1 a. m., and this mereling no slot machines, or saway.

Negro Gambler Tells Chicago Police He Knows Nothing of Killing of Mrs. Mary Trammell. By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.-James Gray, 26 years old, Negro gambler, sought for questioning in connection with the hotel room murder of Mrs. Mary Louise Trammell last Sunday, surrendered today to the police. He walked into police headquarters and said he had read in the newspapers that he was being sought. Gray told the police he knew nothing of the killing but identified a bundle of laundry held at the station as his property. The laundry was obtained by the police through a laundry check found at the hotel by William Schumacker eight days ago after he frightened away a Negro prowler who attempted to enter his room. Assistant Prosecutor Morris Meyers said Gray had a police record as a "peeping tom."

Schumacher, a guest at the hotel, turned over the laundry ticket and a notebook, which he said he found together, after hearing of the attack on Mrs. Trammell, 24ard. Police said Gray told them he was robbed of the notebook, who complained about the ma- laundry check and a small amount of cash while sleeping in Grant

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

DIERRE LAMURE, writing in Le Jour, Paris newspaper, tells of people of Texas, whom he describes as "Provinciaux Yankees." It scribes as "Provinciaux Yankees." It will surprise Texans to learn that they are "provincial Yankees." Other statements in the Paris Le Jour will astound Texans. For instance, energetic Houston, with its Chamber of Commerce energetic enough to climb a greased pole 1000 enough to climb a greated pole lose feet high will wonder at this de-scription of the city: "Almost tropical, heavy with the perfume of flowers, languishing in perfume of flowers, shapped and the streets Negroes, many Negroes, amble along, dragging behind them their blue shadow like a chain.

It takes a good reporter to see a "blue shadow" dragging behind a Houston colored citizen.

In Houston, M. Lamure saw: "An aristocracy of Spanish origin, ter-ribly ceremonious and decayed, dwelling in dilapidated houses, with verandas and colonnades to match; living on memories of the past, green mint, iced, and mortgages."

What is supposed to be the typical Texas cowboy is presented in breeches made of the skin of sheep, stirrups of leather, lasso hanging from the saddle." A photograph shows the typical "cowboy," hunched up like Tod Sloane, over the withers of a jet black bucking bronco without bit or bridle.

A WIZARD WITH DRUM STICKS The New York Jack Powell of Muny Opera Gets Music From Chairs or Collars

By Marguerite Martyn

HE shall have music wherever he goes. And all he needs is a pair of drum sticks. Drums to beat on? Yes, if they happen to be handy, but in their absence Jack Powell can get melody, rhythm and the whole gamut of sound out of any surface within reach of his drum sticks, and combined with his acrobatics, they reach everywhere. See him make his riotous entrance as a black face chef at the end of the first act of this week's Muny Opera presentation of "The Red Mill," hurdle a chair, slide along the floor, scale the red mill in the background, juggling his drum sticks, standing them on end, twirling and flourishing them, yet never skipping the fraction of a beat of his rhythmic tat-too and rarely failing to tap any object

HE arrival of the new movie based on Richard Sherman's romantic story, "To Mary—With Love," is just another step in a com-bination success and Cinderella story of the sort that does occasionally happen in this huge hive where so many young people dream and hope and strive. I knew Dick Sherman when. He was going to write fiction, he always told me-fiction both good and successful. And while I nodded brightly, I remarked to myself that here was another bright and attractive young man who was going to bump his head long and loudly against the hard doors of editorial sanctums, raising lumps and probably breaking his heart in the

But I little knew my man. Dick wrote, and kept on writing, and came up smiling from beneath the usual mountain of rejection slips He was really poor and hungry at this stage of the hard game—I saw him, now and then at cocktail parties, surreptitiously wolfing down canapes and little sandwiches to ease the pangs in his midriff.

And suddenly his work clicked.

There is a tale, perhaps apocryphal, that he received a check daily for six days, and felt aggrieved when none arrived on the seventh. Be that as it may, Dick Sherman has arrived, as he said he would, and certainly "To Mary-With Love" is one of the beautiful and touching love stories of the day. Yet per haps his success will send another thousand starry-eyed boys and girls to scribble and struggle in furnished rooms, dreaming of the day when they, too, will write a "To Mary-With Love." There is probably no more heart-breaking business in the

COOL COMFORT OPEN EVENINGS

New Yorkers And New York By George Tucker

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.

OSCANINI is in Salzburg, but his name continues to monopolize conversation here. The great maestro is even more famous for his memory than his uncanny hearing. There was the time a bass-bassoon player approached the master just before an important rehearsal. "Maestro," he said, "there is something wrong with my instru-ment. The E-flat valve sticks. I wanted you to know before the rehearsal gets under way."

"Just a moment," Toscanini said,
"Let me think." Suddenly he brightened. 'Don't worry," he advised the player, "there is no E-flat in your part today!" Such incidents of memory work are said to be commonplace with the conductor. He knows by heart every note in every score in his repertoire.

Less miraculous, but more humorous, was the time Toscanini became displeased with one of his trumpet players. Finally a series of sour notes drove the conductor into a rage and he dismissed the offender.

On the way out, the trumpet star paused and turned. "Maestro," he said in a soft, contrite voice, "fiddlesticks to you!"

"Bah!" exploded the misunderstanding conductor, "it is too late to apologize!"

TODAY'S PATTERN

The story thus far: Elsa Swan, on her way to Cris Valentine in Paris, meets Joe Sterling, a professional trans-Atlantic gamblet and a friend of Cris. From Sterling she learns that Cris does not intend to marry her, as she had thought. She is jobless and penniless, and is even now spending Cris' money. She has met Nick Hudson, young Texan on his way to Paris to study art, and they have fallen in love. But Elsa is afraid that Nick's affection for her is a passing thing, and she pretends to flirt with Sterling. In revenge, Nick drinks toomuch, and courts the lavor of Sylvia Breen. The ship is listing badly.

"Is there any more to say?" he asked, his cheek against her hair.

None of the European powers was a great little game. Sort of matching of wits. It took one's mind off—off, well, things that look like some foreign nations, the start of the property introduced and all that look in the sound like some foreign nations, the start of the property introduced and all that look in the sound like some foreign nations.

"I had no idea you could play up like that," she said softly. Nick glanced down at her. 'Why?" he asked tensely.

Sylvia shrugged.
"Oh, I don't know, you're so young. I've been watching you since the first night out, but the little tawny haired girl-she has taken up all your time. You're her, aren't you?" she asked archly. Nick stiffened.

"I am not," he said vehemently. "No? Well, prove it." Nick caught his breath. "We have three more days on board," she suggested, a challenge in her hazel eyes. Nick drew her around in front of him. 'Very well, I'll make you a present of 'em," he said with desperate

Every so often she gave a lurch, dug her prows hard into a mountain of oncoming water and quivered from stem to stern. Curved by the wind, spray fanned up and descended in a cascade on her starboard ports.

By evening passengers, even those able to navigate as far as the lounge and bar, were feeling unmistakable evidence that beneath the panoply of a palace, the Altivania was a ship.

In the hazy luxury of the smoking room, Nick steadied himself against the bar. For a great many hours he had taken on just enough drinks of one sort or another to keep his senses in a pleasant state of confusion. He even remarked to the steward, earlier in the day, that he had a bottle laid by to take the salty taste out of his mouth in case the old ship was heaving them all to Davy Jones' locker.

The steward had shook his head and assured him there was no danger of that-no danger at all. The Altivania was equal to many storms, much worse than this; but bothered about the matter. He

AG HIGH AG IN LAW, MEDICINE AND OTHER PROFESSIONS? YES OR NO Oliver Butterfield, who reluses to many any couple without a long, frank talk with both parties beforehand, says in Reader's Digest, (paraphrased):

Happy marriages are rarely the product of chance; they are architectural in that they have been intelligently and deliberately planned. What I try to deliberately planned. What I try to make up find out is how far they have planned and thought matrimonially ahead.

—Certainly. You must make up therefore, you must select what you wish to remember and deliberately for the rest.

Butterfield, who reluses to deliberately planned. What I try to memory with a rich store of valuable information. You cannot remember everything; therefore, you must select what you wish to remember and deliberately for the sake. And when he was brave she felt no more fear.

He sat down and pulled a much-folded newspaper from his coat wish to remember and deliberately for the window and ran her apron over it hastily.

As she came downstairs she remembered that the rain barrel was siper," he grinned. That was his

THE Holland Tunnel is worth look- It costs 50 cents to scram through the THE Holland Tunnel is worth look. It costs 50 cents to scram through the traffic conduit. If you run out of gaso oline in transit, they charge you $1.00 nects New York with Jersey City in an underhand manner.

Its average for a busy day is 2200 cars an hour. Which means about 36 man top is punishable by fine, imprisonment, confiscation of insurance policies, honorary membership in a Georgia chain gang (transported North especially for this one occasion), 50 lashes at a Delaware whipping post, loss of citizenship and 99 years at Alcatraz. In addition to all this, the tunnel police will be rude to you. TRY WRIGLEY'S-IT HELPS IN TENSE MOMENTS!
